

Microglia [MY-CROW GLEE-AH]
are like gardeners in your brain!

Some give neurons nutrients and things called growth factors that help them grow strong and in the right place

